1. Which statement is correct?

Ans: In Linux, file types are rarely determined by extension letters

2. If the first character in the long file listing is a "-", the listed object is a:

Ans: Normal File

3. If the first character in the long file listing is an "s", the listed object is a:

Ans: Unix Domain Socket

4. Which of the following commands are equivalent (Select all answers that apply):

Ans:

- chown donald.ducks file
- chown donald file ; chgrp ducks file
- chown donald:ducks file

5. Which command will give all users the right to look at a file, but give only the owner the right to change it or execute it:

Ans: chmod 744 some_file